

Second chance

Janey knows its getting late too late to turn back now sometimes she feels afraid what if her best years have past her by but Janey's got a second chance Janeys got a Second chance

Can it really be that long ago she was young and wild and free then she followed the dream of the way it's suppose to be true love and happiness now janey wants a Second chance Janeys got a Second chance

Now this is the last dance she wants someone to hold her someone to understand someone to know her and there's a setting sun fading over the ocean maybe your the one

Now where is that little girl so happy just to be alive did this cruel cruel world leave you hurt and crying well crying wont help you now No crying wont help you now You've got a Second chance.

It's too late to turn back now It's not too late to begin again No it's never no no never too late to begin again so Janey, begin again

begin again
begin again
begin again
